PASTOR'S NOTES

"Unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains just a grain of wheat; but if it dies, it produces much fruit."

At every Mass, the sacrifice of Jesus is made present. Every Mass reminds us of the transformative love of Jesus Christ for us. Every celebration of the Eucharist reminds us that we are called to imitate the love of Christ in our own life. When we receive Holy Communion, the life of Christ enters into our body. Do we allow his life and his love to transform our hearts and our lives? Do our thoughts, words and actions imitate the sacrificial love of Jesus Christ?

St. Augustine, in a homily he gave to Christians who were receiving the Eucharist for the first time, once said it this way: "You ought to know that what you will receive, what you ought to receive daily, the bread that you see upon the altar which has been sanctified by the word of God, is the body of Christ. The cup, or more accurately what the cup contains, sanctified by the word of God, is the blood of Christ. By these, the bread and wine, Christ wanted to entrust us with his body and blood which he shed for the forgiveness of our sins. If you receive this well, you are what you receive."

Augustine goes on in the same homily to point out the meaning of the symbolism of the loaf of bread and the cup of wine that serve as Eucharistic species. A piece of bread is made because individual kernels of wheat have been crushed and brought together and then, under heat and fire, baked into one loaf. Likewise for the wine: It is made up of individual grapes that have been crushed and thus brought together into one cup. The unity that results is, in each case, contingent upon a certain giving up of individualism. This is part of the transformation that the Eucharistic prayer asks of us, namely, the breaking down of our own egos, agendas, and bitter lack of forgiveness, so that we can be one with others in a community.

"Unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains just a grain of wheat; but if it dies, it produces much fruit." How might the Lord be inviting you to imitate Him?

Have a great week!
Fr. Keith

COMUNIDAD HISPANA

ESCRITORIO DEL PASTOR

"Yo les aseguro que si el grano de trigo, sembrado en la tierra, no muere, queda infecundo; pero si muere, producirá mucho fruto."

En cada Misa se hace presente el sacrificio de Jesús. Cada Misa nos recuerda el amor transformador de Jesucristo por nosotros. Cada celebración de la Eucaristía nos recuerda que estamos llamados a imitar el amor de Cristo en nuestra propia vida. Cuando recibimos la Sagrada Comunión, la vida de Cristo entra en nuestro cuerpo. ¿Dejamos que su vida y su amor transformen nuestros corazones y nuestras vidas? ¿Imitan nuestros pensamientos, palabras y acciones el amor sacrificado de Jesucristo?

San Agustín, en una homilía que dirigió a los cristianos que recibían la Eucaristía por primera vez, lo dijo una vez de esta manera: "Debes saber que lo que vas a recibir, lo que debes recibir cada día, el pan que ves sobre el altar y que ha sido santificado por la palabra de Dios, es el cuerpo de Cristo. El cáliz, o más exactamente lo que contiene el cáliz, santificado por la palabra de Dios, es la sangre de Cristo. Con esto, el pan y el vino, Cristo quiso confiarnos su cuerpo y su sangre, que derramó para el perdón de nuestros pecados. Si lo recibes bien, eres lo que recibes".

Agustín continúa en la misma homilía señalando el significado del simbolismo de la hogaza de pan y la copa de vino que sirven como especies eucarísticas. Un pedazo de pan se hace porque los granos de trigo han sido aplastados y unidos y luego, bajo el calor y el fuego, cocidos en una hogaza. Lo mismo ocurre con el vino: está hecho de uvas individuales que han sido trituradas y reunidas en una copa. La unidad resultante depende, en cada caso, de una cierta renuncia al individualismo. Esto forma parte de la transformación que nos pide la plegaria eucarística, a saber, la ruptura de nuestros propios egos, agendas y amarga falta de perdón, para que podamos ser uno con los demás en una comunidad.

"Yo les aseguro que si el grano de trigo, sembrado en la tierra, no muere, queda infecundo; pero si muere, producirá mucho fruto." Cómo puede estar invitandote el Señor a imitarle?

¡Que tengan una buena semana!
Fr. Keith

LA IMPORTANCIA DE LA ADORACION EUCARISTICA

La importancia de la Adoración Eucarística se manifiesta en el hecho de que la iglesia tiene un Ritual que la regula: El derecho de Exposición y Bendición Eucarística, esta es una extensión de la Adoración del Santísimo Sacramento que ocurre en cada Misa: "He aquí el Cordero de Dios, he aquí el que quita el pecado del mundo. Bienaventurados los llamados a la cena del Cordero". La exposición del Santísimo Sacramento fluye del sacrificio de la Misa y sirve para profundizar nuestra hambre de Comunión con Cristo y el resto de la Iglesia. El Rito concluye con la bendición del ministro ordenando bendiciendo a los fieles con el Santísimo Sacramento.

NUESTRAS PUERTAS ESTAN ABIERTAS
